Recreation & Community Services

PROVIDE INPUT ON THE ONTARIO RECREATION & PARKS MASTER PLAN

The City of Ontario Recreation & Community Services Department is currently developing a Recreation & Parks Master Plan that will provide a vision for the Recreation & Community Services and Parks Department for the next decade. The Department has commissioned a survey to assess community needs on existing parks and recreation facilities. Community input is an important part of this process and feedback will be used to help guide decisions.

The City of Ontario invites all residents to provide feedback and input through an open-link survey by visiting www.OntarioParkSurvey.org/Open

The results of this survey will provide critical information in determining amenities, current facilities, community programming, and future needs. Even if you are not a current user, your survey response is valuable. Our goal is to better serve everyone.

This survey and data work are being conducted by RRC Associates. A total of 5,000 households in Ontario have been mailed a survey, and responses from these residents will comprise the statistically valid sample. The open-link survey will give all residents an opportunity to provide feedback, and their responses will be included in the final analysis. While open-link results will be kept separate from the statistically valid responses, these responses will none-the-less provide valuable feedback for the City of Ontario.

Additionally, there will be an interactive community presentation on Thursday, October 1 at 5:30 PM. Participants in this virtual workshop will have an opportunity to let staff know their top priorities and recommendations for parks and recreation. The presentation will be conducted via Zoom.
